Hot and cold beverage cup labelling

The European Single Use Plastics Directive (SUPD) labelling of beverage cups kicked off in July 2021 to help educate consumers on materials and promote recycling.

At Go-Pak we want to raise awareness and stress why it's so crucial to dispose of packaging products properly, whether it's a paper cup lined with traditional plastic such as PE, or bio-based compostable lining such as PLA, or a 100% plastic cup made with recycled PET.

The text of the marking must be written in the official language or languages of the country where the cup is sold and used in the EU.

At Go-Pak, we have stock of cups printed with the turtle logo in five languages available for immediate delivery:

- English
- Gaelic
- French
- Spanish
- German

If you require additional EU languages, please contact us to discuss options available.

Please note: Non-EU product only sold in Northern Ireland

What the law says

Beverage cups made partly from plastic must feature the printed label*

Beverage cups made entirely from plastic must feature the printed or engraved/embossed label

Did you know?

*The SUPD does not specify a minimum quantity of plastic in the cup, so even a thin lining of bio-based plastic (e.g. PLA) on a paper cup, must display the logo. In fact, as far as we know, there isn't a single hot beverage cup on the market (yet) that is 100% plastic-free – the lining is a necessary functionality.

Contact the EU Sales Team to find out which EU countries we are supplying to and discuss available options.
